About the Organization:

York County Food Bank hopes to continue their mission to end hunger in York County. With this grant, they will aspire to increase food supply and access to healthy food, for the over 55,000 hungry people in this county. York City is below the poverty threshold and since March 2020, there has been a 400% increase in demand. There is a need for 9 million meals every year, which is $25 million annually. They strive to meet these needs and help those who are food insecure, and have been serving York County since 1982.
